Foundation Message

Jim Nichols

On behalf of the Hobey Baker Memorial Award Foundation, I extend to you a warm welcome to the 34th Annual Awards Dinner. Once again, we honor the Legend of Hobey Baker in celebrating the accomplishment of our recipient Johnny Gaudreau and the coaching career of Jack Parker. We are pleased that you have joined us tonight at this prestigious event to celebrate excellence in College Hockey.

The Hobey Baker Memorial Award Foundation has just completed a most memorable and exciting year. The year commenced with a phenomenal fundraising effort that was spearheaded by Past Chair Hans Skulstad with the proceeds specifically earmarked toward the complete renovation of our website. The end results are absolutely terrific and kudos are due our new Executive Director, Jill Wagner and Team Hobey.

In early March 2014, we executed an Exclusive Master License Agreement with DMSM Marketing, a very special sports media marketing agency located in New York. We are extremely excited about working very closely with them over the next several years in building our “Hobey Brand” and “High School Character Award.”

The Hobey Baker Award Announcement was hosted at the 2014 Frozen Four’s Loews Millennium Ballroom in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. Not only is Philadelphia considered the birthplace of Hobart Amory Baker, it is his final resting place. Prior to the announcement Jill Wagner and Team Hobey developed a wonderful and very moving “Laying of the Wreath Ceremony” at Hobey’s gravesite in West Laurel Hill Cemetery in suburban Philadelphia. Once again, the Hobey Baker Operating Committee under the direction of Wally Shaver was totally responsible for televising our entire Announcement Show on Comcast Cable locally and on the NHL Live Network. It was awesome!

Special thanks are accorded to the NHL for their continued financial support of Hobey for 20+ years. We are very much appreciative of the Minnesota Wild and the Minnesota Wild Foundation for their continued financial support and for the leadership and vision of Matt Majka.

Because of the generosity of RBC Wealth Management, API Corporation, Matt Gilroy, Talmer Bank & Trust, The Dasburg Foundation, New Jersey Devils, and Warrior Hockey our “Hobey Baker High School Character Award” program continues to expand and flourish. Thank you to McKenzie Kelly of Jostens and James Kolar of PriceWaterhouseCoopers for their tremendous efforts and support of our award.

We also thank this year’s Chair Dan Hoene and Vice Chair John Russo. The effort, passion, and dedication of these people and our committee make this award and banquet a prestigious and memorable event.

Finally, I thank the Foundation Directors for their volunteer time and efforts to make the Hobey Baker Memorial Award bigger and better every year.

Thank you and please join me in celebrating two more of College Hockey’s finest.

*Jim Nichols, President
Hobey Baker Memorial Award Foundation*

Message from the Committee Chairman

Dan Hoene

It was my honor to present the Hobey Baker Memorial Award to Johnny Gaudreau on April 11, 2014 in the Millennium Ballroom at the Loews Hotel, Philadelphia, PA.

There were 800 people crowded into the room. Many were there to witness the ceremony because Johnny grew up just across the river in New Jersey. It was expected Johnny would be the winner as he had again led college hockey in scoring and was a gentleman both on and off the ice. But while Johnny’s college play was what decided the honor, it’s important to look back at what got him there. It is no coincidence that the values of Johnny’s youth hockey program, the Hollydell Hurricanes, are similar to the spirit of the Hobey Baker Award. As stated in the Hollydell mission statement “...we teach the importance of teamwork and responsibility. We accept this responsibility to direct, teach and mold our athletes to become the best possible players and individuals on and off the ice.”

As the 34th Hobey Baker recipient, Johnny Gaudreau represents all that is good in the game of hockey. It has been my esteemed honor to be this year’s Chairman.

As we all know...character matters.

*Dan Hoene
2013-2014 Hobey Baker Memorial Award Committee Chair*

We know a good investment when we see one.

That's why we're a proud sponsor of Hobey Baker Memorial Award.

Legend of College Hockey

Jack Parker coached the Boston University Terriers to three national championships in three different decades; 1978, 1995 (shown above) and 2009.

Jack Parker

By Brian Kelley, Assistant Athletic Director, Boston University

One of the top coaches in the history of collegiate sports, Jack Parker – a name that became synonymous with Boston University – wrapped up his 40-year tenure as head coach of the Terriers’ men’s hockey team in March of 2013.

Parker spent nearly 50 seasons at BU as either a player or a coach, leaving behind a lasting legacy of success. No hockey coach has recorded more victories at one school, as Parker’s career win total of 897 ranks third all-time amongst NCAA Division I coaches.

A three-time recipient of the Spencer Penrose Award (NCAA Div. I Hockey Coach of the Year), Parker holds the record for NCAA tournament appearances as a coach with 24. He led the Terriers to national championships in three different decades (1978, 1995, 2009) to go along with 11 conference titles and 21 Beanpot crowns.

Parker became associated with the BU hockey program in 1963, when he arrived on campus as a freshman. The Somerville native and Catholic Memorial High School standout was a sparkplug at center for the 1966-68 Terrier varsity teams that combined for a 72-22-4 record and a pair of NCAA tournament appearances.

A team captain as a senior, Parker wore the No. 6 jersey for a reason outside of hockey, as he idolized Boston Celtics legend Bill Russell while growing up. Earlier this year, Parker’s No. 6 became just the second number – joining Travis Roy’s No. 24 – to be retired by BU.

Upon graduation, he began his coaching career at Medford High School before coming back to the BU program as an assistant coach.

Parker helped guide the team to consecutive NCAA championships in 1971 and 1972 – the first national titles by any sport at BU.

Promoted to the head-coaching role in December of 1973, Parker led BU to a 19-6 finish that season and a win over Harvard in the third-place game of the NCAA tournament. He never looked back, turning BU into college hockey powerhouse that provided hundreds of student-athletes the opportunity to reach their fullest potential both on and off the ice.

JOHNNY GAUDREAU

On Friday, April 11, Johnny Gaudreau accepted the Award from Hobey Baker Chairman Dan Hoene. The announcement took place at the Loews Philadelphia Hotel during the 2014 NCAA Frozen Four. The NHL Network provided live TV and webcast coverage to an international audience.

2014 Hobey Baker Memorial Award Recipient

Johnny Gaudreau

Have you ever heard the term ‘Larry Basketball’? Or ‘Teddy Baseball’?

What about ‘Johnny Hockey’? By now, you should have.

It’s seldom a diminutive, lanky figure in any sport would warrant a nickname that inherently dons one the very best. But if you have ever seen Johnny Gaudreau play hockey, it is apparent something special is transpiring.

It was not too long ago Gaudreau was being dismissed for his slight, 5-foot-8 frame. Whether it was elite travel teams, hockey festivals or even the 2012 World Junior Team, many thought Gaudreau would never be able to perform at such a smallish stature...until that first collegiate goal was scored in the Ice Breaker Championship at North Dakota’s Engelstad Arena as an Eagle.

“My first thought when I saw this goal was WOW!”, then sports information director Tim Clark said. “After seeing him dance around the ice like this in his first scoring play, I knew Boston College was in for something special.”

Gaudreau’s freshman year was indeed special, meshing with a talent-laden roster and finishing just one point off the team lead (behind current New York Ranger Chris Kreider) by posting 21 goals and 23 assists.

“My first year was definitely a memorable one,” Gaudreau said. “I know I’ve collected many individual awards in my time at Boston College, but none were as memorable as hoisting that national championship with my teammates in Tampa.”

Immediately, Gaudreau’s skill and inventiveness helped his famed coach, Jerry York, hoist his third national title in five years.

“His ability to make other players better, his hockey sense and hockey IQ are right off the charts,” York said. “Those are just a few of the qualities that make Johnny so special. People talk about his size, but he plays with tons of grit and protects the puck very well. He battles and competes whatever the situation may be. He’s going to play 60 full minutes to the best of his ability.”

As a sophomore, Gaudreau returned with a vengeance and led all of college hockey in scoring with 51 points, averaging 1.46 points per game. For his exploits, Gaudreau would win his first of two Hockey East Player of the Year awards and made his Hobey Baker debut as a Hat Trick Finalist in Pittsburgh.

This past season, Boston College’s storied history archives were rewritten.

“Johnny is not the loudest guy, but he definitely leads by example every day,” centerman Bill Arnold said. “He is extremely humble and he is always willing to help a teammate out, whether it’s off the ice or on the ice.”

Gaudreau joined forces with Arnold and right winger Kevin Hayes to piece something together that has not been seen on The Heights in some time.

From 1988 to 1990, BC’s famed ‘HEM Line’ consisting of Steve Heinze, David Emma and Marty McInnis wreaked havoc on opposing teams. Together as a line, the trio totaled 363 points in 82 games played, averaging 4.43 points per game. Despite a much smaller sample size, the formidable line of Gaudreau, Arnold and Hayes amassed 134 points in just 26 games together, averaging 5.15 points per game.

“I credit all of my success this past season to both Billy and Kevin, along with the rest of my teammates,” Gaudreau said. “The game becomes a lot easier when you have two of college hockey’s best players on your line.”

Despite what that line accomplished, Gaudreau fully completed the clean sweep of awards in 2013-14.

Along with becoming Boston College’s third Hobey Baker Memorial Award recipient on April 11, joining David Emma (1991) and Mike Mottau (2000), the Carneys Point, N.J., native won every award he was eligible for. Now a two-time First-Team All-American and Hockey East Player of the Year, Gaudreau also won the Walter Brown Award (presented annually to the best American-born college hockey player in New England), Leonard Fowle Award (New England’s MVP presented by the New England Hockey Writers) and the Herb Gallagher Award (New England’s best forward).

Gaudreau’s trophy case is not spilling over because he is simply magnetic to watch. His 80-point campaign in 2013-14 is the third-best individual season in Boston College history and the most of any college hockey player since Peter Sejna’s 82-point performance with Colorado College in 2002-03. Coach York has never led a player with these kinds of numbers. Gaudreau’s 80 points in a season falls just three points shy of the school record set by Craig Janney (28-55-83) in 1986-87.

“It is truly an honor to even be considered amongst historic Boston College icons like Gionta, Emma, Stevens and Guerin,” Gaudreau said.

After one national championship, three Beanpot trophies and a laundry list of individual honors, Gaudreau opted to turn professional and sign with the Calgary Flames.

But before donning a new sweater, Gaudreau left a significant imprint on the Boston College hockey program. In just three years wearing the maroon and gold, Gaudreau accrued 175 points in just 119 games played, including 78 goals and 97 assists. He leaves The Heights a top-10 scorer in program history, only one of two within that group to do so in three seasons.

As fate would have it, Gaudreau was flown out to Vancouver from the Hobey Baker ceremony to play in his first NHL game for Calgary on April 13, 2014. His first NHL shot resulted in the Flames’ only goal of the night.

It looks like this ‘Johnny Hockey’ thing might stick.

Hobey Baker Foundation

In 1991, the senior members of the Hobey Baker Memorial Award Committee ("Committee") determined that a Foundation should be formed to ensure the continued protection and growth of this prestigious award. The direction was taken, the research was performed and the Hobey Baker Memorial Award Foundation ("Foundation") was legally established. In 1992, the Foundation became a reality and is formally governed by a Board of Directors.

Today, the Committee reports directly to the Foundation. Membership in the Foundation is open to current and past Chairmen of the Committee, Past Hobey Baker Memorial Award Winners, Past Hobey Baker Memorial Award Legends of Hockey, and others as determined by the Foundation's Board of Directors.

The Foundation possesses ownership over all rights to the Hobey Baker

Memorial Award and related properties. The Foundation has the ultimate responsibility to maintain the quality and integrity of the Annual Award and Banquet, as well as, the Hobey Baker Brand. The Foundation's primary charge is to ensure the long-term stewardship, success and expansion of the Hobey Baker Brand.

To accomplish these goals, the Foundation undertakes the following major actions:

1. Develop strategic vision for the annual award and new events;
2. Develop and maintain partnerships with entities whose interests and goals are aligned with Hobey Baker's;
3. Negotiate contracts to carry out the mission and approved activities of Hobey Baker.

The Hobey Baker Foundation's efforts to create more exposure for our award include the continued expansion of the Hobey Baker High School Character Award program. This program was started in 2004 with the mission to promote character and sportsmanship at the high school level by recognizing boy and girl hockey players that exemplify those traits. Each head coach selects the recipient from their team that most exemplifies the character and sportsmanship of Hobey Baker himself. This year The Hobey Baker Memorial Award Foundation honored about 950 recipients in 20 states. Next year we are targeting all 46 states with high school hockey and 2400 teams. At an average of 17 players per team that means 40,000+ players.

The Foundation also introduced The Hobey Baker Society. This group consists of individuals dedicated to financially supporting the activities of Hobey Baker.

It should be noted that the Hobey Baker Foundation is indebted to all the volunteers that make up the Foundation and Committee. Not only is their contribution in the numerous hours given to making the Award a success, but their contributions are also financial. This year we were just shy of 100% participation in the financial support of the Foundation.

The Foundation is a non-profit organization; therefore donations to the Foundation are tax deductible, as is a portion of the cost of your ticket to tonight's Banquet.

Hobey Trophy

As a symbol of excellence, it had to be outstanding, and the Hobey Baker Memorial Award trophy turned out to be just that. The trophy itself represents art and athletics at their best.

Forty pounds of bronze and clear, etched acrylic, 16 inches high, detailed down to a stitched jersey and lettered stick, the trophy is classic sculpture.

The figure was sculpted by internationally renowned Bill Mack of Bloomington, Minn., whose unique style of relief sculptor is collected worldwide. He has produced sculptors of many Hall of Fame athletes including Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, Arthur Ashe, Peggy Fleming, Lyle Alzado and recently the Harmon Killebrew statue at Target Field in Minneapolis.

In creating the Hobey Baker Award, his painstaking process began with the search for a model. That model turned out to be Steve Christoff, who starred at Richfield (Minn.) High School, the University of Minnesota, with the 1980 U.S. Olympic hockey team and in the National Hockey League.

Fifty different skating poses were photographed and analyzed. Practical and artistic considerations were taken into account. The award had to be sturdy. A skater stopping quickly, sending ice shavings flying, his stick and skates forming a three-point base, was selected.

This pose, photographed from a variety of angles, was broken down in painstaking detail. A charcoal drawing of the nascent trophy was unveiled at the East-West All Star Hockey Game luncheon on April 1, 1980 at the St. Paul Civic Center, where the Decathlon Club publicly announced its award intentions.

Mack turned the drawings into a stick figure, soon covered by clay, then plaster baked in the Decathlon ovens. Finally out came the finished product — the statuary bronze trophy — college hockey's symbol of individual excellence.

The original trophy was unveiled at the first award banquet April 1, 1981 at the Decathlon. The original casting is on display in the Xcel Energy Center, St. Paul, Minn. Each winner has also been presented a trophy, as have the schools they represented.

Hobey Balloting

Each head hockey coach at accredited NCAA Division I schools receives one ballot. Coaches are asked to pick the top three players in their league and the top three players in the nation. These are two separate rankings of three players each — a player may be listed in both rankings and a coach may vote for his own player.

College hockey fans can nominate their favorite players as well through on-line balloting (hobeybakeraward.com) that counts as 1% of the total vote. Ballots from the coaches and fans are tabulated by the accounting firm PricewaterhouseCoopers, and the top 10 candidates are named.

The Hobey Baker Memorial Award Selection Committee and online voters will then select the Hobey Hat Trick (top three finalists) and the winner. The Selection Committee consists of 23 members who represent print media, electronic media, NHL scouts, college hockey coaches and officials. The committee is balanced geographically. Selection Committee terms are three years, except for officials who serve five years. Members may be reappointed.

Award Criteria

- 1) Candidates must exhibit strength of character both on and off the ice.
- 2) Candidates must contribute to the integrity of the team and display outstanding skills in all phases of the game.
- 3) Consideration should be given to scholastic achievement and sportsmanship.
- 4) Candidates must comply with all NCAA rules: be full time students in an accredited NCAA college or university; and complete 50 percent or more of the season.

2014 Hobey Baker Award Announcement

As the NCAA Frozen Four moved to Philadelphia, Penn. a special opportunity presented itself to the Hobey Baker Award committee. In the city where Hobey Baker was born and buried, a more formal award announcement was in store and the Millennium Ballroom in the Loews Hotel provided an intimate backdrop to honor college hockey's top player. Additionally, former Pennsylvania Governor and Philadelphia major, Ed Rendell served as announcement host.

The Hobey Hat Trick of three finalists took their center stage seats while families, coaches and 800 invited guests and media looked on, ready for the ceremony to crown the 34th Hobey recipient. Candidates Johnny Gaudreau of Boston College, Greg Carey of St. Lawrence and Nic Dowd of St. Cloud State anxiously fidgeted. Televised locally on The Comcast Network and Comcast SportsNet as well as internationally live on NHL Network and streamed on nhl.com, Governor Rendell began.

Introductory videos provided a glimpse into the life of the award's namesake, Hobey Baker. Past Hobey recipients chimed in with what the award has meant to them for this very select group of college hockey standouts. As the award show entered its final segment, Hobey Baker committee chair Dan Hoene opened the tightly sealed envelope and announced Johnny Gaudreau as the 2014 Hobey Baker Award recipient, the third time a Boston College player was so honored, joining Mike Mottau and David Emma as Eagle Hobey winners.

Despite a tough loss the night before in the national semifinals, the Eagles team stayed in town to see if their star player could claim some hardware. Following the award show conclusion, the entire BC team surrounded their Hobey winner and congratulated Gaudreau on his upcoming career as a Calgary Flame.

The Hobey Baker Story

Hobey Baker had all the attributes of a fabulous athlete: a great physique, fantastic reflexes, instant coordination of hand and eye, iron discipline, blazing courage. But he was different. Hobey Baker was the college athlete supreme: The gentleman sportsman, the amateur in the pure sense, playing the game for the sport, who never fouled, despised publicity and refused professional offers. To this day, he is offered as a striking example of the finest that America has produced.

Hobart Amory Hare Baker was born to an aristocratic Philadelphia family January 15, 1892. At age eleven, he was enrolled at St. Paul's School, the famous preparatory school in Concord, New Hampshire, especially favored by the first families of Philadelphia for the training of their sons. Although remembered as industrious rather than brilliant, Hobey was always in the first third of his class and proved diligent and conscientious.

St. Paul's pride was its ice hockey team. The school had introduced the sport to America only eight years before Hobey's arrival. Its teams were outstanding and fared well against college and semi-professional clubs. Hobey Baker made the squad at age fourteen and was soon its hero.

This was the age of seven-man hockey—no forward passing or substitutions allowed. Ironically, these seeming restrictions best showcased Hobey's speed, stickhandling and endurance. Also, with someone like Hobey on the squad, the coach was free to experiment with strategies and maneuvers. For example, he aligned the two defensemen side by side rather than the classical tandem positions of point and cover-point. Offensively, the standard rush line of four abreast, two wings and two forwards, was altered so the left forward remained on the center line from cage to cage and allowed the right forward (Hobey) to roam all over the ice. These tactics, with the two forward positions renamed center and rover, were immediately adopted by the hockey world.

From St. Paul, ice hockey spread to other prep schools, and upon graduation, players took the game to the college level. And with it, the fame of Hobey Baker.

While at Princeton, he was not only a legend in hockey, but in football as well. He captained the hockey team for two years and the football team for one. As a punt returner, his coordination and footwork allowed him to take chances and do things others wouldn't dare.

Page after page was written about him in the newspapers; fans would line up for hours in advance to purchase tickets.

Crowds in evening dress would arrive by carriage or limousines when the marquee read "Hobey Baker Plays Tonight." Yet Hobey remained unaffected. Shouts of "Here he comes!" would greet his arrival onto the ice and continue throughout the games whenever he touched the puck. He was simply a pleasure to watch.

In his era, Hobey Baker was universally recognized as the best amateur hockey player in the United States. At a time when low scoring games were the rule, Hobey set new standards, averaging more than four goals per game. He was penalized only twice in his college career. His speed and skills dazzled the audiences and the press. The Boston Journal enthused, he "is without a doubt the greatest amateur hockey player ever developed in this country or Canada. No player has been able to weave in and out of a defense, change his pace and direction, with the uncanny skill and generalship of Baker. He is the wonder player of hockey." At a dinner following his senior year, he was crowned with the laurel "King of Hockey." In spite of all the well-deserved praise heaped upon him, he was totally unspoiled by it and he was modest almost to a fault.

After his college years at Princeton Hobey tried his hand in the real world of Wall Street insurance and banking, then the family upholstery business. But he was bored. What sustained him was playing for St. Nick's, an amateur team in Manhattan. His teammates were ex-Harvard, Yale and Princeton players and a few Canadians working in the city. However, the rest of the league made no pretense of being anything but "semi-pros."

In spite of the usual opponent tactic of "get Baker," Hobey continued his college tradition of making his way to the offender's locker room to shake hands after each contest. Baker's aversion to fouling was not because he was stoic or passive, he simply despised dirty play.

Hobey's skills and daring did not diminish, and he continued his reign as king of amateur hockey. The press still found him refreshing and remarkable. Following a game with the Stars, the Montreal Press commented, "Uncle Sam has had the cheek to develop a first-class hockey player. We had always smiled a cynical grin at the thought. A few minutes of Baker on the ice convinced the most skeptical. The blond haired boy was a favorite with the crowd."

The winter of 1916 Hobey's mind was on a very different sort of competition. Believing American involvement in the World War was close at hand, he took up flying. In 1917 Hobey was commissioned a lieutenant in the Army. As a member of the famous Lafayette Escadrille, he was with the first group of American pilots sent to France. He was as adventurous a pilot as he had been an athlete, chosen on occasion to exhibit aerial acrobatics with his friend Eddie Rickenbacker. In combat flying, he found even more danger and excitement than he had in contact sports - and Hobey needed both. He was officially credited with bringing down three enemy planes and was decorated with the Croix de Guerre for "exceptional valor under fire."

Following the armistice, his orders home in hand, Hobey announced to his fellow officers he was going to take "one last flight in the old Spad." His mates were quick to argue with the young captain who was challenging the oldest tradition of the air service—never take a "last" flight lest it be just that. But they were not able to dissuade him and were even more upset when the plane he insisted on flying was a borrowed one, just out of the repair shop.

Tradition was not to be denied the final victory that gray, dismal day over Toul, France. Just a quarter mile out, the engine quit and the plane crashed. Hobey Baker, age 26, died in the ambulance a short time later.

In 1919 he received a posthumous Army citation from General Pershing for distinguished service and exceptional gallantry.

With his death in France, the old-fashioned virtues Hobey Baker personified took on legendary qualities. He was one of the first Americans selected to the Hockey Hall of Fame, in 1945. In 1973, the United States Hockey Hall of Fame in Eveleth, Minnesota included Hobey Baker as a charter member.

The Sports Bay and Chapel in the Cathedral of St. John the Divine in New York City was dedicated in 1951. Hobart Baker was one of four men whose name was cut in the walls of the chapel to serve as a constant expression and reminder to all future generations of the highest ideals of character and sportsmanship.

No finer example of the true sportsman may have ever been developed in American athletics. Whatever game he played he always played it first of all for the joy of the sport.

College Hockey Legend Jack Parker

Nearly 70 of Parker's former players at BU have gone on to play in the National Hockey League. That group includes 10 who played more than 800 games in their NHL careers and six who have raised the Stanley Cup. The list of the NHL standouts who were developed by Parker includes names such as Tony Amonte, Chris Drury, Shawn McEachern, Keith Tkachuk and Scott Young.

Earlier this year, Team USA's Kevin Shattenkirk became the 24th BU player who was coached by Parker to play for his country at the Olympic Games. One of Parker's proudest moments came in 1980 when former Terriers Mike Eruzione, Dave Silk, Jack O'Callahan and Jim Craig were key members of the 'Miracle on Ice' team that won the gold medal in Lake Placid.

Parker was instrumental in helping BU raise the funds to build Agganis Arena, which became the Terriers' new state-of-the-art home in 2005 and remains one of the premier facilities in college sports nearly 10 years later. The rink was dedicated to Parker and there are plans to proudly display a statue of him in front of the arena in the near future.

Parker was inducted into the BU Athletic Hall of Fame in 1994 and earned a spot in the Beanpot Hall of Fame a year later. In 2010, the NHL presented Parker with its Lester Patrick Trophy for outstanding service to hockey in the United States.

GRAVESITE MEMORIAL SERVICE

With the Frozen Four and the announcement of this year's winner of the Hobey Baker Award in Hobey's home town, it seemed fitting to visit his final resting place and pay our respects. A delegation of Hobey Baker Foundation volunteers, as well as Hobey's grandnephew Nicholas Morse and wife Fayrl, assembled at Hobey's gravesite in the West Laurel Hill Cemetery. As the following poem, which is engraved on his tombstone, was read Chairman Dan Hoene and President Jim Nichols placed a wreath on the grave. The Morse's also placed long stem red roses. Taps were played at the conclusion of the ceremony.

"YOU SEEMED WINGED, EVEN AS A LAD, WITH THAT SWIFT LOOK OF THOSE WHO KNOW THE SKY
IT WAS NO BLUNDERING FATE THAT STOOPED AND BADE
YOU BREAK YOUR WINGS, AND FALL TO EARTH AND DIE,
I THINK SOME DAY YOU MAY HAVE FLOWN TOO HIGH,
SO THAT IMMORTALS SAW YOU AND WERE GLAD,
WATCHING THE BEAUTY OF YOUR SPIRIT'S FLAME, UNTIL THEY LOVED AND CALLED YOU, AND YOU CAME."

History of the Hobey Baker Award

Named for the outstanding collegiate hockey player in the U.S.A.

By Charles R. Bard,
CEO, Decathlon Athletic Club

In February of 1978, I attended the Club Managers Convention in Los Angeles at the Los Angeles Athletic Club. Following the convention I was asked by Duke Llewellyn, Athletic Director of the LAAC and the Administrator of the Wooden Award, to stay over a couple of nights and attend the US Open at the Riviera Country Club.

That Sunday evening following the Open, Duke asked me to dine with him at the LAAC. Following dinner, Duke gave me a tour of the facility and in the process revealed their plans for the Wooden Award created to honor the outstanding collegiate basketball player of the year. He related their beginning, how the trophy was designed, their early successes and failures. He discussed how they patterned the Award after the Heisman Award, and I immediately suggested that the Decathlon Club could do the same thing for hockey. Duke agreed and said what better place than Minnesota. We discussed their financial difficulties, their expenses, and their revenues. Their banquet was held at the Club where space was limited.

After returning I began looking into the feasibility of starting a similar award for hockey at the DAC. At that time we were going through our first major expansion program at the DAC and every program had to be self-sustaining. In the following months I gathered financial material for the Heisman Award from Rudy Riska, Athletic Director of the New York

Character Builds Excellence

Downtown Athletic Club, and further financial information on the Wooden Award. Since the Heisman originated in the 1920s, it was difficult to compare with their years of experience and major sponsors. Their 1978 banquet was held at a hotel in town, which seated 1200 people at $125 a plate. Their big expense, which would not be a problem for us, was the expense of bringing in past winners. They actually had a two-tiered head table with all the past winners on the first tier.

I continued to research the two awards and attended two of the Heisman Award banquets as the guest of Director Riska. I attended both VIP receptions and began to formulate my plan for a similar award for hockey.

In the fall of 1979, following a very successful sports banquet at the DAC, Wally McCarthy suggested we should have a second sporting event each year. With the hockey award in mind I felt it was now time to discuss the concept. I asked Russ Chance, Chairman of the Entertainment Committee, to meet with me. When I expressed my interest in a collegiate hockey award, Russ agreed. We discussed the financial arrangements necessary, and I told Russ that I would pursue sponsors to make the award self-sustaining if he would chair the first event, and he agreed to do so. He also agreed to bring it to the Board of Directors for their approval.

Over the next several months I pursued potential sponsors and succeeded in getting commitments from Ralph Greig of Pepsi Bottling Company and Joe Lapinsky, President of Northwest Airlines, for some form of financial backing. I also lined up Jim Thaxton, President of Sports Films & Talent, to do the filming of the potential finalists.

I then began to establish an organizational committee of club members who were interested in sports and the concept of a collegiate hockey award. The first members of the committee were Walter Bush, Jim Thaxton, Russ Chance, Pinky McNamara, George Konik, Murray Williamson, Grady Alderman, Ralph Greig, and Ron Fletcher.

I asked John Justice, Athletic Director of the DAC, to draw up a format for the award. John went to work on a plan to establish the criteria as to who would do the voting to select the candidates, how to arrive at a top ten, and finally, the winner. At this point I felt we needed someone to actually be in charge of the award itself, and I appointed Patty Riha, editor of the DAC Discus magazine, to be the award coordinator. The three of us put our final touch on the format and then presented it to the Organizational Committee for final approval. By this time our Committee had grown in size as we felt the need for more help on the various committees within the Organizational Committee. We broke the Committee's assignments as follows, calling it the Planning Committee.

Next came the choice for a name for the award. I asked Walter Bush how I could get a list of the Hockey Hall of Fame members. Walter said he would send me a list of the names in the Canadian Hockey Hall of Fame and suggested I contact Roger Godin who was then in charge of the U. S. Hockey Hall of Fame. Roger sent me his list and I began to study the biographies of the names in the two Halls of Fame. After reviewing all of the inductees, I settled on four names that impressed me the most. They were Frankie Brimsek, Moose Goheen, John Mariucci, and of course Hobey Baker. Even though I had come up with the four final names for the Committee's review, I had already made up my mind. I was so enamored with Hobey that I secured all of the information on him that I could, even contacting W.C. Stryker, the Director of Athletic Relations at Princeton University, where Hobey attended and performed.

When I attended the next Committee meeting I brought the four names for consideration, but only brought the bio on Hobey. It was a tough decision for a few because the other three candidates were all from Minnesota. In fact, John Mariucci was my neighbor in Bloomington. My input prevailed however, and the Committee voted unanimously for Hobart Amory Baker.

I contacted Bill Stryker at Princeton and learned there were relatives of Hobey's in New York, Princeton, and believe it or not, two in St. Paul, Minnesota. There were two nephews in New York that were the sons of Hobey's brother, Thornton. One was Alfred Baker, a senior editor at Time Magazine, and the other was Hobey Baker, Creative Director at General Mills. One cousin, Lewis Baker Cuyler lived in Princeton and the two cousins living in St. Paul were Mrs. Benjamin Griggs and Mrs. Charles Amos.

I traveled to New York and Princeton to meet those relatives and secure their permission for the use of Hobey's name. Nephew Hobey had in his possession an elaborate scrapbook that Hobey's mother had compiled. He graciously allowed me to bring the scrapbook back to Minnesota with me. Jim Thaxton's Sports Film & Talent Company duplicated the entire scrapbook which allowed us to have all the pictures, stories, and headlines we now have in our possession.

While in New York I also contacted a number of media people to get their input and support for the award. I met personally with Mark Mulvoy, hockey editor for Sports Illustrated at that time, and with Judy Weiss in the New York office of Hockey News. On the phone I talked with Tom Murray and Charlie Halpin of Hockey News in Toronto, and Larry Klein of Sport Magazine. They were all very helpful and supportive of such an award. I also spent more time with Rudi Riska while in New York, and received more of the background on the Heisman Award.

From there I solicited suggestions, recommendations, support and approval from Dennis Poppe and William Hunt of the NCAA, Hal Trumble of the Amateur Hockey Association, Bill Cleary, Harvard hockey coach and Executive Director of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics, Lefty Smith, Notre Dame Hockey coach and President of the American Hockey Coaches Association, along with W.C. Stryker. The next step was to establish an Advisory Committee of well recognized and respected hockey icons and legends that we felt could add their expertise and prestige to the award. With the help of Walter Bush, and the member of the Organizational Committee, a committee was formed that consisted of Thayer Tutt, Bob Ridder, Don Clark, Bill Cleary and Snooks Kelly. Walter Bush would serve as the Chairman of this committee. This committee was responsible for overseeing the Award and for selecting a 13-person selection committee that would ultimately name the winner.

A network of all college coaches in the NCAA, divisions I, II and III, was established to determine the top ten candidates. They all voted for the three best players in their estimation. The votes of the coaches determined who the top 10 finalists would be. Our problem during the first couple of years was that we, in an attempt to be all-inclusive, gave equal weight to Divisions II and III, and ended up with too many players from those divisions in the top 10. Following this, the 13-man selection committee would select the ultimate winner. This selection committee would be made up of equal representation from the East and the Midwest. One person would be designated to represent the daily newspapers, the magazines, the electronic media, the American Hockey Association, the NHL scouts, and the Hockey Coaches Association, thus creating twelve members. The Decathlon Chairman of the Committee was the thirteenth member, and would only vote in the event of a tie. Members were to serve two-year terms. After two years new members were appointed by the Advisory Committee.

The first Hobey Baker Award winner, Neal Broten, was announced at the DAC before a very sparse media audience on March 20, 1981. The Award banquet was held at the Decathlon Athletic Club on March 30, 1981. Attired in black tie, the head table featured Gordie Howe as guest speaker. The Master of Ceremonies was the legendary Ray Scott and the long awaited event was a complete sell out.

Hobey Baker Chairmen

Back in 1980 Chuck Bard was CEO and General Manager of the Decathlon Club in Bloomington, Minn., and came up with the idea to honor the top men's collegiate hockey player in the U.S. His concept came to fruition with the creation of the Hobey Baker Memorial Award. A committee was formed to oversee the operations of the award and each year is guided by a new Committee Chairman. These pillars of strength guide the award project through all phases of the operation including budgeting, public relations, marketing, banquet and selection process. Countless hours are spent in a volunteer role to make the annual event the best it can be. We salute these past Committee Chairs for their dedication in creating and preserving the outstanding qualities the Hobey Baker Award represents.

Boston University's dominating season culminated with a national championship and Matt won the school's second Hobey Baker Award (Chris Drury in 1998). The Terriers were ranked No. 1 for a large portion of the season, winning the Hockey East regular season and playoff titles. The senior defenseman produced 37 points in 45 games on 8 goals and 29 assists to finish tied for second in the nation amongst defensemen.

A management studies major, Matt became the first defenseman in Hockey East history to earn First Team all-star honors three times. He was also named the winner of the Walter Brown Award as the best American-born college player in New England. Initially a walk-on at BU, Gilroy concluded his career playing in 145 consecutive games. Growing up in North Bellmore, NY, Matt helps his family run a summer basketball league on Long Island, volunteers with the Autism Speaks program and was a driving force behind the "Starr of the Game" benefit to honor long-time BU booster Meryl Starr Herman. Matt wore number 97 to honor his deceased brother Timmy. Gilroy originally signed as a free agent with the New York Rangers where he spent two seasons. In the summer of 2011, he signed as a free agent with the Tampa Bay Lightning and was traded mid-season to the Ottawa Senators. Last season, Gilroy returned to the Rangers organization splitting time with the NHL and AHL farm club in Connecticut. He signed an off-season deal with the Florida Panthers in the summer of 2013.

2010 — Blake Geoffrion
Univ. of Wisconsin-Madison Badgers

Certainly the family bloodlines don't hurt, but Blake Geoffrion established himself as one of the nation's premiere players. The tri-captain of the Badgers was a complete player and helped Wisconsin to the national championship game. Utilized in all situations, the senior forward from Brentwood, Tenn., Geoffrion skated a regular shift, received ample special teams time on both power play and penalty killing, took key faceoffs (where he was a remarkable 59% on faceoffs) and had an amazing shooting percentage of 23%. Geoffrion was named MVP of the West Regional and overall recorded 28 goals and 22 assists in 40 games, ranking third in the nation in goal scoring and led the country with 15 power play goals. Finishing second in the WCHA scoring race and topping the conference in goals and power play goals, he was selected as a First Team all-star. And the family bloodlines? His dad Danny, granddad Bernie "Boom Boom" and his great grandpa Howie Morenz all played for the Montreal Canadiens. Boom Boom and Howie are both enshrined in the Hockey Hall of Fame and have nine Stanley Cups between them. A Consumer Science Major, Geoffrion spent time off the ice visiting UW Children's Hospital, was a mentor to a cancer patient and a Peer Leader lending assistance to UW students. He was a second round draft pick of the Nashville Predators and spent time between Nashville and Milwaukee of the AHL; played for both teams again last season before being traded to the Montreal Canadiens having spent time in the NHL and with Hamilton in the AHL. Geoffrion suffered a head injury 10 games into the 2012-13 season with Hamilton and has retired from hockey. He is presently scouting for the Columbus Blue Jackets.

Character Builds Excellence

2011 — Andy Miele
University of Miami RedHawks

Andy Miele (pronounced mee-lee), outpaced everyone in college hockey piling up 71 points in just 39 games played, the most points in Division I hockey in eight years. His closest competitor was 11 points behind. Overall, Miele scored 24 goals and 47 assists becoming the first Miami RedHawk to win the Hobey. The senior from Grosse Pointe Woods, Michigan, won the CCHA conference scoring title posting 16 goals and 40 assists for 56 points in 28 league games, an average of two points per game and the most points in conference play in 19 years. Amazingly, his 40 assists were more than the second place player had total points, a first in league history. His 47 assists in all games led the nation by six assists. Miele earned CCHA Player of the Year honors and a First Team all-star berth. He had multiple point efforts in 22 of the 39 games he played in – an incredible model of consistency. An American Studies major with a Coaching minor, Miele joined the U.S. National Team for the IIHF World Championship in Slovakia last spring. He signed a pro contract with the Phoenix Coyotes as a free agent and just completed his third season with the Phoenix organization, finishing third in AHL scoring for Portland.

2012 — Jack Connolly
Univ. of Minnesota-Duluth Bulldogs

As captain of the defending national champions, Jack Connolly had a fantastic season winning the WCHA scoring title, being named a First Team all-star for the third straight season and capped it off as the league's Player of the Year. A three-time All American, Connolly was second in the nation in points and assists accumulating 20 goals and 40 assists for 60 points in 41 games. Connolly never missed a college game, having played in 166 straight. Amazingly, he was held pointless in consecutive games only twice in his illustrious four-year career and punctuated it with a team record 22-game point streak in his Hobey Baker season. Tremendous skill as a playmaking center defined Jack's game as he had an innate ability to see the ice and make smooth, intelligent puck decisions. The hometown hero is active in community endeavors helping with trash clean-up in the Adopt-A-Highway program, visiting Duluth hospitals, volunteering with the Boys and Girls Clubs of America and working with various cancer fund-raisers. He was a Communications major with a 3.3 GPA. Hockey runs deep in the Connolly family as Jack's older brother Chris, was the captain and second leading scorer for Boston University the same season. Jack signed a pro contract and has played for Farjestad BK of Sweden's Elite League the past two seasons.

2013 — Drew LeBlanc
St. Cloud State University Huskies

The Hobey Baker winning year for Drew LeBlanc was truly an amazing one. Following a horrific broken leg injury the prior season prompting a medical redshirt, LeBlanc returned for a fifth season to captain the Huskies. The masterful playmaking center from Hermantown, Minnesota had an outstanding season leading the nation with 37 assists in 42 games while contributing 13 goals for 50 total points (seventh in the nation). His creative playmaking skills while on offense were matched by his diligent efforts in his own defensive zone, helping St. Cloud State to a share of their first WCHA regular season title and their first ever appearance in the NCAA Frozen Four championship. LeBlanc's magical season helped him attain a first in the 52-year history of the WCHA – named both the Outstanding Student-Athlete of the Year and the WCHA Player of the Year. He took on an added academic load to complete his Math Education degree by student teaching all season long. He has been active in community outreach programs assisting new students on campus with move-ins, helping out at local hockey clinics and participating in a variety of team functions throughout his career at St. Cloud State. A pro hockey free agent, LeBlanc signed with the Chicago Blackhawks and spent the 2013-14 season with Rockford of the AHL.

“The team before me.”

IN LOVING MEMORY OF C. David Jones 1998 COMMITTEE CHAIRMAN

Dave Jones was an early and active member of the Hobey Baker Memorial Award Committee and the Hobey Baker Memorial Award Foundation. He was Chairman of the Committee in 1998 when Chris Drury of Boston College was the Hobey winner. He was active in bringing a number of new members to the Committee. He spent many years on the Board of Directors of the Foundation, including service as its Secretary. His dedication to the Hobey Baker Award was clearly shown as he continued to attend Committee and Foundation meetings even though his health was failing. Dave was Vice President of Marketing for the Minnesota North Stars. Dave was also a very strong supporter of women's collegiate hockey, as two of his daughters were pioneers in that sport. His smile, spirit, incite, and dedication to Hobey Baker will be greatly missed.

We will miss you, Dave.
