THE UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN CONGRATULATES

COLE CAUFIELD

2021 HOBAY BAKER MEMORIAL AWARD WINNER

Foundation Message

Wally Olson

On behalf of the Hobey Baker Memorial Award Foundation, welcome to the 41st annual Awards Banquet. We are here today to celebrate our 2021 winner, Cole Caufield (University of Wisconsin) for an outstanding collegiate career along with this year's legend of College Hockey, Mike Sertich (University of Minnesota Duluth / Michigan Tech University) for his tremendous contributions to college hockey. Character Builds Excellence is truly shown with both award recipients. We want to thank you for attending this event that celebrates the excellence in college hockey.

The hockey community was saddened this year with the untimely passing of Tom Kurvers. Tom was our 1984 recipient of the Hobey Baker Memorial Award and played 11 seasons in the NHL. Our hearts go out to his wife, Heather, and their children. Tom was 58 years young.

This year was another unique year as everyone was getting closer to getting back to a new normal with respect to Covid-19. For the most part the college hockey season was able to proceed and concluded with the Frozen Four in Pittsburgh. This event was limited to spectators for everyone's protection. We elected to have a virtual announcement as we had the previous year. Our broadcast aired during our normal time slot on the NHL Network with live feeds from our Hat Trick Finalists. We want to thank our Hat Trick

Finalists, Dryden McKay (Minnesota State University) and Shane Pinto (University of North Dakota) for joining us for the Golf Tournament and this evening's Banquet.

A special thank you to our major sponsors: Columbia Threadneedle, National Hockey League, Federated Hermes, and Lord Abbett, along with our Past Award Recipients, Hobey Baker Foundation and Committee members and our other supporters for their continued financial support. A special thanks to the Minnesota Wild and Minnesota Wild Foundation for their continued support, under the leadership of Matt Majka. Thank you to Bethany Boelter of Jostens and James Kolar of PriceWaterhouseCoopers for their continued support of our award.

The High School Character Award has had another great year as we continue to expand its outreach. Thank you to our sponsors and the Minnesota Wild for their financial support in driving the ideal that "Character Builds Excellence" to the high school level.

I also want to thank our Chairman, John Dahl and Vice Chairman, Joe Santarelli for their contributions this season. The direction and passion of these individuals along with the voluntary committee members have made this year's award, golf tournament and banquet tremendously successful.

Thank you again for joining us with today's events celebrating the finest of college hockey.

Wally Olson, President
Hobey Baker Memorial Award Foundation

Message from the Committee Chairman

John Dahl

As we celebrate the end of another great college hockey season, I can't help but reflect on some of the unusual challenges that were faced and the people who helped make the season a memorable success. The NCAA, the member schools and staff, and players all dealt with delayed season starts, abbreviated schedules, and protocols that were not certain to result in a completed season. But, players and schools adapted, the best players and teams rose to the top, and Massachusetts played a near-flawless championship game to win their first national title.

Cole Caufield, the Hobey Baker Memorial Award winner, led the nation in a wide variety of statistics such as goals and shots per game and for the season, winning back-to-back scoring titles in the Big 10. He played his first pro game the same night he won the Hobey Baker award, and quickly advanced to the NHL's Montreal Canadiens, where he played a key role through the Stanley Cup finals. We look forward to watching Cole's NHL career in the years to come, and thank him for contributing to the Hobey Baker legacy.

Finalist Dryden McKay also set statistical records for the Mankato Mavericks, leading the NCAA with eight shutouts in nineteen games, and a 1.32 goals against average. With 23 career shutouts and college eligibility remaining, he has a real chance to break Hobey winner Ryan Miller's career shutouts record of 26. Shane Pinto, the final Hat Trick Finalist, is a forward who was in the top five in the nation for faceoffs won, power play points, and power play goals, and in the top ten nationally for points and goals. After his season ended this spring in the longest game in NCAA history, he signed a three-year contract with the Ottawa Senators, racking up seven points and a plus-minus of plus six in his first dozen games.

This year's Hobey Baker Legend of College Hockey winner, Mike Sertich, set a season wins record for the Minnesota Duluth Bulldogs and led them to their first NCAA tournament appearance in his first year as head coach. The Bulldogs lost the national championship game the next year in quadruple overtime, and Mike was named WCHA coach of the year his first three years in the conference. The Bulldogs produced the first three of their six Hobey Baker award winners under his leadership, and continue a legacy of success built on the foundation he laid.

Legend of College Hockey Mike Sertich

25-Year Head Hockey Coach at the University of Minnesota Duluth

The Hobey Baker Memorial Award Foundation announced on March 2 that its' 2021 Legend of College Hockey recipient is Mike Sertich from the University of Minnesota Duluth. His run with the Bulldogs spanned 25 years beginning in 1975 and culminated in 2000. Retirement was short-lived as Sertich went behind the Michigan Tech bench mid-season in 2000-01 and continued for two more full seasons.

Following a career as a Bulldog defenseman in the mid-1960s, Sertich started coaching with Gus Hendrickson at Grand Rapids, MN high school. Together, the two moved on to Minnesota Duluth in 1975 with Sertich serving as assistant coach under Hendrickson. Sertich was chosen to take over the head coaching reigns in 1982 and saw immediate success.

Minnesota Duluth made the NCAA tournament in each of his first three seasons including two straight Frozen Four appearances. In just his second season (1983-84), the Bulldogs won the WCHA regular season and playoff titles, then marched all the way to the national championship game, losing in an NCAA classic to Bowling Green in four overtimes. The same script followed the next season. Duluth won league and playoff banners, but suffered a three-overtime loss in the national semi-final game to Rennselear. In each of his first three seasons guiding the Bulldogs, Sertich was named WCHA Coach of the Year and added national coach of the year accolades in 1984 (Spencer Penrose Award).

Overall, Mike Sertich procured a 350-328-44 record in 18 seasons as Bulldog head coach. He enjoyed one more WCHA regular season title and league coach of the year honors for the 1992-93 season. Sertich produced three Hobey Baker Award winners, 11 NCAA All-Americans, five WCHA Player of the Year honorees and 21 future National Hockey League performers during his 18-year tenure. He assumed the Michigan Tech University head coaching reins in October 2000 and went on to coach the rest of that year and two more full seasons before retiring with an overall college head coaching record of 375-397-53.

Not quite done with the hockey bug, Sertich served as a volunteer assistant coach at the College of St. Scholastica for three years (2011-14). Additionally, he was involved with USA Hockey in a variety of roles over a 40-year period, including coaching the National Sled Hockey Team. Raised in Virginia, MN, Mike Sertich was honored with several more awards in 2005: WCHA Distinguished Service Award, the AHCA Founders Award and was inducted into the University of Minnesota Duluth Athletic Hall of Fame. Good things run in the family as Mike's nephew Marty Sertich won the Hobey Baker Award in 2005 while skating for Colorado College.

Congratulations, Mike!

2021 Hobey Baker Award Announcement

The coronavirus pandemic of 2020 certainly left an imprint on college hockey for the 2020-21 hockey season. Ten of the 61 Division I college hockey programs canceled their seasons and many other teams had to deal with Covid outbreaks within their programs. The six college hockey conferences survived by conducting abbreviated seasons and their league playoffs. The NCAA continued forward with Regionals at four locations followed by the national championship Frozen Four tournament in Pittsburgh, culminating with the University of Massachusetts earning their first ever national title.

For the second straight year, the Hobey Baker Award and its' partners, determined the health risk of the pandemic would necessitate an alternative plan for their live Friday at the Frozen Four national awards ceremony. Most of the country was still in some form of lockdown and attendance at live events very much limited. A plan was devised with the NHL Network to carry a live ceremony to announce the respective national awards from the network's studio desk.

The live half hour program aired nationally on NHL Network and included the announcements of the Mike Richter Award (nation's top goalie), the Hockey Humanitarian Award (college hockey's top citizen) and the NHL Tonight anchor Tony Luftman announced Cole Caufield as the 2021 Hobey Baker Award winner live on the NHL Network.

American College Hockey Coaches Association annual recognition of the East and West All-American teams.

The Hobey Baker portion of the show included video highlights of the three hat trick finalists, Cole Caufield of Wisconsin, Dryden McKay of Minnesota State and Shane Pinto of North Dakota. Caufield was announced as the winner of the 41st Hobey Baker Award by Hobey committee chair John Dahl. Caufield then proceeded to make his pro hockey debut that same night with Laval of the American Hockey League where he promptly scored two goals and an assist. All things considered, it was another successful award announcement.

Award winner Cole Caufield was interviewed by NHL Network reporter Jackie Redmond on a live video chat during the award announcement broadcast on NHL Tonight.

2021 Hobey Baker Memorial Award Recipient

Cole Caufield

Winning a world junior championship, a Big Ten championship, Big Ten Player of the Year, first-team All-American, the Hobey Baker Memorial Award and helping the NHL's most storied franchise to within a whisper of the Stanley Cup would make one heck of a hockey career for most.

For Cole Caufield, that was the 2020-21 hockey season.

He was a dominant force in college hockey rinks. Caufield scored 11 more goals than any other player in the nation with 30 goals in 31 games. He also led the nation with 52 points, leading the country in per game average in both categories (0.97 goals per game; 1.68 points per game).

USA Hockey's Jim Johansson College Player of the Year was a nightmare for opposing coaching staffs to game plan against. He was much more than 'Goal' Caufield. He helped many of his teammates to career seasons and you could argue to professional contracts.

Caufield was a record-breaking goal scorer entering college, shattering standards at the U.S. National Team Developmental Program set by the likes of Patrick Kane, Auston Matthews and Phil Kessel.

He continued that scoring clip during his two seasons in college, sharing the lead among all rookies nationally his first year, then destroying the rest of the nation on his way to the Hobey in 2021.

It was a rare college hockey performance for Caufield, with a goal-scoring average better than anyone in the country since at least the year 2000.

He started the collegiate season without a goal in the first four games of the year, but from there on out, it became more of a surprise when the Stevens Point, Wisconsin, native didn't score. He went seven games with a goal midseason, scored a pair of hat tricks and finished up with goals in the seasons' final six games. His 11 goals over the final six contests included the biggest stages, with both tallies in the Big Ten-clinching victory for the Badgers, two goals and the overtime game-winner in the Big Ten semifinals and two goals and three points in UW's NCAA opening round contest. He was on the Big Ten All-Tournament and NCAA All-Regional teams.

And he did it all with a big smile!

There was the trip to Vancouver before his freshman year officially even started when a youth hockey team coming off the ice as the Badgers arrived whispered and pointed out to each other Cole Caufield, the then-recent Montreal draft pick.

There was the postgame lobby after a game at Merrimack where a youth team from Canada waited to say hello to the popular future pro, and of course he obliged.

There were the extra-long lines at 'Skate with the Badgers' for photos and autographs.

Much of that went away this past year, when Wisconsin and all hockey fans could only follow from afar, but Caufield got to share much of his year with his friends in the locker room.

"I think my teammates were probably the biggest contributors to my season," Caufield said to Jackie Redmond during the NHL Network's Hobey announcement. "I had some pretty good linemates this year in Linus Weissbach and Ty Pelton-Byce, but our team as a whole unit, we did a really good job this year. All the credit to them. The coaching staff did a great job with our team to put us in the right situation to have success. I couldn't be more thankful for this award."

Though they only played together on the power play, Caufield also had fellow Hobey Top-10 Badger Dylan Holloway to lean on, as well as the goaltending duo of freshman Cameron Rowe and Caufield's grad transfer roommate Robbie Beydoun to backstop the team. There was captain and future Arizona defenseman Ty Emberson anchoring a well-rounded blue line corps, and the balance of a talented forward group.

Despite him preparing for his first professional hockey game while the Hobey Baker Memorial Award announcement took place, Caufield's teammates, including his brother, Brock, watched and celebrated inside the Wisconsin locker room when official word came – Caufield was Wisconsin's second Hobey Baker winner.

Later that evening, they watched as he put up a three-point night in his first game as a professional, leading the AHL's Laval Rocket to a 5-3 victory with two goals, including the third-period winner. His stay lasted only two games before he moved on to the big club – the Montreal Canadiens.

There, he scored overtime game-winning goals on consecutive nights for his first two career NHL goals and became a fresh breath for Montreal down the stretch of the regular season and throughout its playoff run.

In a special hockey season due to the worldwide pandemic, Cole Caufield found a way to have a special year and share his smile with Wisconsin and the rest of the hockey world.

Hobey Baker Award Trophy

As a symbol of excellence, it had to be outstanding, and the Hobey Baker Memorial Award trophy turned out to be just that. The trophy itself represents art and athletics at their best.

Forty pounds of bronze and clear, etched acrylic, 16 inches high, detailed down to a stitched jersey and lettered stick, the trophy is classic sculpture.

The figure was sculpted by internationally renowned Bill Mack of Bloomington, Minn., whose unique style of relief sculptor is collected worldwide. He has produced sculptors of many Hall of Fame athletes including Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, Arthur Ashe, Peggy Fleming, Lyle Alzado and recently the Harmon Killebrew statue at Target Field in Minneapolis.

In creating the Hobey Baker Award, his painstaking process began with the search for a model. That model turned out to be Steve Christoff, who starred at Richfield (Minn.) High School, the University of Minnesota, with the 1980 U.S. Olympic hockey team and in the National Hockey League.

Fifty different skating poses were photographed and analyzed. Practical and artistic considerations were taken into account. The award had to be sturdy. A skater stopping quickly, sending ice shavings flying, his stick and skates forming a three-point base, was selected.

This pose, photographed from a variety of angles, was broken down in painstaking detail. A charcoal drawing of the nascent trophy was unveiled at the East-West All Star Hockey Game luncheon on April 1, 1980 at the St. Paul Civic Center, where the Decathlon Club publicly announced its award intentions.

Mack turned the drawings into a stick figure, soon covered by clay, then plaster baked in the Decathlon ovens. Finally out came the finished product — the statuary bronze trophy — college hockey's symbol of individual excellence.

The original trophy was unveiled at the first award banquet April 1, 1981 at the Decathlon. The original casting is on display in the Xcel Energy Center, St. Paul, Minn. Each winner has also been presented a trophy, as have the schools they represented.

Hobey Balloting

Each head hockey coach at accredited NCAA Division I schools receives one ballot. Coaches are asked to pick the top three players in their league and the top three players in the nation. These are two separate rankings of three players each — a player may be listed in both rankings and a coach may vote for his own player.

College hockey fans can nominate their favorite players as well through on-line balloting (www.hobeybaker.com) that counts as 1% of the total vote. Ballots from the coaches and fans are tabulated by the accounting firm PricewaterhouseCoopers, and the top 10 candidates are named.

The Hobey Baker Memorial Award Selection Committee and online voters will then select the Hobey Hat Trick (top three finalists) and the winner. The Selection Committee members are a geographically-balanced group of 30 individuals representing print and electronic media, college hockey coaches and officials, and NHL scouts. Their terms are three years, except for officials who serve five years and members may be reappointed.

Award Criteria

- 1) Candidates must exhibit strength of character both on and off the ice.
- 2) Candidates must contribute to the integrity of the team and display outstanding skills in all phases of the game.
- 3) Consideration should be given to scholastic achievement and sportsmanship.
- 4) Candidates must comply with all NCAA rules: be full time students in an accredited NCAA college or university; and complete 50 percent or more of the season.

2012 Committee Chairman
Foundation President

The Foundation possesses ownership over all rights to the Hobey Baker Memorial Award and related properties. The Foundation has the ultimate responsibility to maintain the quality and integrity of the Annual Award and Banquet, as well as, the Hobey Baker Brand. The Foundation's primary charge is to ensure the long-term stewardship, success and expansion of the Hobey Baker Brand.

To accomplish these goals, the Foundation undertakes the following major actions:

1. Develop strategic vision for the annual award and new events
2. Develop and maintain partnerships with entities whose interests and goals are aligned with Hobey Baker's
3. Negotiate contracts to carry out the mission and approved activities of Hobey Baker

The Hobey Baker Foundation's efforts to create more exposure for our award include the continued expansion of the Hobey Baker High School Character Award program. This program was started in 2004 with the mission to promote character and sportsmanship at the high school level by recognizing boy and girl hockey players that exemplify those traits. Each head coach selects the recipient from their team that most exemplifies the character and sportsmanship of Hobey Baker himself. This year The Hobey Baker Memorial Award Foundation honored about 950 recipients in 20 states. Next year we are targeting all 46 states with high school hockey and 2400 teams. At an average of 17 players per team that means 40,000+ players.

The Foundation also introduced The Hobey Baker Society. This group consists of individuals dedicated to financially supporting the activities of Hobey Baker.

It should be noted that the Hobey Baker Foundation is indebted to all the volunteers that make up the Foundation and Committee. Not only is their contribution in the numerous hours given to making the Award a success, but their contributions are also financial. This year we were just shy of 100% participation in the financial support of the Foundation.

The Foundation is a non-profit organization; therefore donations to the Foundation are tax deductible, as is a portion of the cost of your ticket to tonight's Banquet.

TOM KURVERS

Tom Kurvers leaves amazing legacy on and off the ice

Tom Kurvers took on cancer the same way he took on opponents on the ice in high school, college and the NHL...with courage and determination to win.

Kurvers, the winner of the fourth Hobey Baker Award in 1984, died June 21, but he did not lose his battle. In the nearly 18 months he lived with lung cancer, he succeeded in raising awareness that nearly half of all lung cancer cases are in non-smokers.

"It's been the journey of a lifetime since the diagnosis," he said at a run/walk fundraiser for the Breath of Hope Lung Foundation in August 2020, just eight months after he learned he had Stage 3 lung cancer. "Today's a day of celebration. I'm with family and friends and other survivors."

Kurvers spoke at the event at the Lake Harriet Band Shell in Minneapolis to hundreds of lung cancer survivors and their families. He said he wanted to share a message of inspiration and be inspired by other lung cancer survivors. "I wanted to participate," he said. "I agreed to speak and the participation part came second ...and I thought well I'm able to run. I'm going to run."

That's right. Just eight months after his lung cancer diagnosis, Kurvers ran a 10K and was greeted by his young sons at the finish line with smiles and high fives.

It was a remarkable feat in a life full of remarkable feats.

Kurvers helped lead Bloomington Jefferson to its first appearance in the Minnesota Boys State Hockey Tournament in 1980. He went on to play at the University of Minnesota Duluth, leading the Bulldogs to their first national championship game in 1984. They lost to Bowling Green in four overtimes.

Kurvers scored 18 goals, with 58 assists for 76 points in 43 games that season and earned the 1984 Hobey Baker Award.

UMD teammate Bill Watson, who went on to win the 1985 Hobey Baker Award, calls Kurvers the "driving force" on that impressive 1984 UMD team both on and off the ice.

"More than anything a lot of people weren't giving us much of a chance (in 1984), but Tommy knew different," Watson says, adding that Kurvers led the younger players by example as the team captain. "He wasn't an overly boisterous guy in the locker room, but he was a fun guy to be around and we all looked up to him."

Watson says he learned a lot from Kurvers and credits him as a key part of the UMD foundation that now includes six Hobey Baker winners and three national championships.

Tom Kurvers met up with 2019 Hobey Baker Committee Chairman Tom Hauser after completing the 10K Breath of Hope Lung Foundation Run/Walk.

"He was a guy who was always prepared," Watson said. "He thought about the team first. Tommy is a big reason why Bulldog Nation is where it is today."

His coach at UMD, Mike Sertich, agrees.

"He was certainly gifted, but everybody knew about his work ethic, his ability to reach outside himself to help younger players and lead the older players," Sertich told the Star Tribune newspaper recently. "He had total respect in the room, from players to coaches to support staff. He led by example and had great values, and he lived those on and off the ice."

Kurvers went on to play 11 seasons in the NHL for seven teams, winning a Stanley Cup with the Montreal Canadiens in 1986. He went on to serve in the front offices of the Arizona Coyotes, Tampa Bay Lightning and Minnesota Wild, where he most recently served as assistant general manager.

"Tom's passion for and success in hockey could only be surpassed by the love and optimism he shared with his family and friends each and every day," the Wild said in a statement. "We join the State of Hockey in mourning the loss of a great hockey player and an even better person."

Kurvers was also active in helping the Hobey Baker Committee, whether by speaking at banquets or taking time to speak to Hobey Baker High School Character Award winners.

But his most important legacy came near the end of his life as he helped raise awareness of the need for more money for lung cancer research.

He took on that fight the same way he took on opponents on the ice.

"I'm taking it on head-on and that's what we all have to do when we're diagnosed with this disease," he said after completing his run for the Breath of Hope Lung Foundation in 2020.

One more example of Tom Kurvers leading by example.

He is survived by his wife Heather and four children.

Tom Kurvers, one of only 41 elite hockey players to win the Hobey Baker Award, will be greatly missed by all those associated with this prestigious award, and by the hockey community around the world. The Hobey Baker Story

Hobey Baker had all the attributes of a fabulous athlete: a great physique, fantastic reflexes, instant coordination of hand and eye, iron discipline, blazing courage. But he was different. Hobey Baker was the college athlete supreme: The gentleman sportsman, the amateur in the pure sense, playing the game for the sport, who never fouled, despised publicity and refused professional offers. To this day, he is offered as a striking example of the finest that America has produced.

Hobart Amory Hare Baker was born to an aristocratic Philadelphia family January 15, 1892. At age eleven, he was enrolled at St. Paul's School, the famous preparatory school in Concord, New Hampshire, especially favored by the first families of Philadelphia for the training of their sons. Although remembered as industrious rather than brilliant, Hobey was always in the first third of his class and proved diligent and conscientious.

St. Paul's pride was its ice hockey team. The school had introduced the sport to America only eight years before Hobey's arrival. Its teams were outstanding and fared well against college and semi-professional clubs. Hobey Baker made the squad at age fourteen and was soon its hero.

This was the age of seven-man hockey—no forward passing or substitutions allowed. Ironically, these seeming restrictions best showcased Hobey's speed, stickhandling and endurance. Also, with someone like Hobey on the squad, the coach was free to experiment with strategies and maneuvers. For example, he aligned the two defensemen side by side rather than the classical tandem positions of point and cover-point. Offensively, the standard rush line of four abreast, two wings and two forwards, was altered so the left forward remained on the center line from cage to cage and allowed the right forward (Hobey) to roam all over the ice. These tactics, with the two forward positions renamed center and rover, were immediately adopted by the hockey world.

From St. Paul, ice hockey spread to other prep schools, and upon graduation, players took the game to the college level. And with it, the fame of Hobey Baker.

While at Princeton, he was not only a legend in hockey, but in football as well. He captained the hockey team for two years and the football team for one. As a punt returner, his coordination and footwork allowed him to take chances and do things others wouldn't dare.

Page after page was written about him in the newspapers; fans would line up for hours in advance to purchase tickets.

Crowds in evening dress would arrive by carriage or limousines when the marquee read "Hobey Baker Plays Tonight." Yet Hobey remained unaffected. Shouts of "Here he comes!" would greet his arrival onto the ice and continue throughout the games whenever he touched the puck. He was simply a pleasure to watch.

In his era, Hobey Baker was universally recognized as the best amateur hockey player in the United States. At a time when low scoring games were the rule, Hobey set new standards, averaging more than four goals per game. He was penalized only twice in his college career. His speed and skills dazzled the audiences and the press. The Boston Journal enthused, he "is without a doubt the greatest amateur hockey player ever developed in this country or Canada. No player has been able to weave in and out of a defense, change his pace and direction, with the uncanny skill and generalship of Baker. He is the wonder player of hockey." At a dinner following his senior year, he was crowned with the laurel "King of Hockey." In spite of all the well-deserved praise heaped upon him, he was totally unspoiled by it and he was modest almost to a fault.

After his college years at Princeton Hobey tried his hand in the real world of Wall Street insurance and banking, then the family upholstery business. But he was bored. What sustained him was playing for St. Nick's, an amateur team in Manhattan. His teammates were ex-Harvard, Yale and Princeton players and a few Canadians working in the city. However, the rest of the league made no pretense of being anything but "semi-pros."

In spite of the usual opponent tactic of "get Baker," Hobey continued his college tradition of making his way to the offender's locker room to shake hands after each contest. Baker's aversion to fouling was not because he was stoic or passive, he simply despised dirty play.

Hobey's skills and daring did not diminish, and he continued his reign as king of amateur hockey. The press still found him refreshing and remarkable. Following a game with the Stars, the Montreal Press commented, "Uncle Sam has had the cheek to develop a first-class hockey player. We had always smiled a cynical grin at the thought. A few minutes of Baker on the ice convinced the most skeptical. The blond haired boy was a favorite with the crowd."

The winter of 1916 Hobey's mind was on a very different sort of competition. Believing American involvement in the World War was close at hand, he took up flying. In 1917 Hobey was commissioned a lieutenant in the Army. As a member of the famous Lafayette Escadrille, he was with the first group of American pilots sent to France. He was as adventurous a pilot as he had been an athlete, chosen on occasion to exhibit aerial acrobatics with his friend Eddie Rickenbacker. In combat flying, he found even more danger and excitement than he had in contact sports - and Hobey needed both. He was officially credited with bringing down three enemy planes and was decorated with the Croix de Guerre for "exceptional valor under fire."

Following the armistice, his orders home in hand, Hobey announced to his fellow officers he was going to take "one last flight in the old Spad." His mates were quick to argue with the young captain who was challenging the oldest tradition of the air service—never take a "last" flight lest it be just that. But they were not able to dissuade him and were even more upset when the plane he insisted on flying was a borrowed one, just out of the repair shop.

Tradition was not to be denied the final victory that gray, dismal day over Toul, France. Just a quarter mile out, the engine quit and the plane crashed. Hobey Baker, age 26, died in the ambulance a short time later.

In 1919 he received a posthumous Army citation from General Pershing for distinguished service and exceptional gallantry.

With his death in France, the old-fashioned virtues Hobey Baker personified took on legendary qualities. He was one of the first Americans selected to the Hockey Hall of Fame, in 1945. In 1973, the United States Hockey Hall of Fame in Eveleth, Minnesota included Hobey Baker as a charter member.

The Sports Bay and Chapel in the Cathedral of St. John the Divine in New York City was dedicated in 1951. Hobart Baker was one of four men whose name was cut in the walls of the chapel to serve as a constant expression and reminder to all future generations of the highest ideals of character and sportsmanship.

No finer example of the true sportsman may have ever been developed in American athletics. Whatever game he played he always played it first of all for the joy of the sport.

A LOOK BACK

Hobey Baker Chairmen

Back in 1980 Chuck Bard was CEO and General Manager of the Decathlon Club in Bloomington, Minn., and came up with the idea to honor the top men's collegiate hockey player in the U.S. His concept came to fruition with the creation of the Hobey Baker Memorial Award. A committee was formed to oversee the operations of the award and each year is guided by a new Committee Chairman. These pillars of strength guide the award project through all phases of the operation including budgeting, public relations, marketing, banquet and selection process. Countless hours are spent in a volunteer role to make the annual event the best it can be. We salute these past Committee Chairs for their dedication in creating and preserving the outstanding qualities the Hobey Baker Award represents.

I would like to thank the Hobey Baker committee and foundation members who worked so hard to make this year's programs a success, including foundation president Wally Olson, former committee chair Chuck Ranney, vice chair Joe Santarelli, Jim Martin, Bryan Benedict, and all the other committee members whose volunteer efforts make this program a success. I would also like to thank the NHL for being our presenting sponsor, and for hosting our awards show in April. Gold sponsors American Century, Eaton Vance, and Franklin Templeton, and each of our hole sponsors have also made significant contributions, helping ensure that the Hobey Baker Memorial Award program continues to recognize and celebrate character and excellence in college hockey.

History of the Hobey Baker Award

Named for the outstanding collegiate hockey player in the U.S.A.

By Charles R. Bard,
CEO, Decathlon Athletic Club

In February of 1978, I attended the Club Managers Convention in Los Angeles at the Los Angeles Athletic Club. Following the convention I was asked by Duke Llewellyn, Athletic Director of the LAAC and the Administrator of the Wooden Award, to stay over a couple of nights and attend the US Open at the Riviera Country Club.

That Sunday evening following the Open, Duke asked me to dine with him at the LAAC. Following dinner, Duke gave me a tour of the facility and in the process revealed their plans for the Wooden Award created to honor the outstanding collegiate basketball player of the year. He related their beginning, how the trophy was designed, their early successes and failures. He discussed how they patterned the Award after the Heisman Award, and I immediately suggested that the Decathlon Club could do the same thing for hockey. Duke agreed and said what better place than Minnesota. We discussed their financial difficulties, their expenses, and their revenues. Their banquet was held at the Club where space was limited.

After returning I began looking into the feasibility of starting a similar award for hockey at the DAC. At that time we were going through our first major expansion program at the DAC and every program had to be self-sustaining. In the following months I gathered financial material for the Heisman Award from Rudy Riska, Athletic Director of the New York

Downtown Athletic Club, and further financial information on the Wooden Award. Since the Heisman originated in the 1920s, it was difficult to compare with their years of experience and major sponsors. Their 1978 banquet was held at a hotel in town, which seated 1200 people at $125 a plate. Their big expense, which would not be a problem for us, was the expense of bringing in past winners. They actually had a two-tiered head table with all the past winners on the first tier.

I continued to research the two awards and attended two of the Heisman Award banquets as the guest of Director Riska. I attended both VIP receptions and began to formulate my plan for a similar award for hockey.

In the fall of 1979, following a very successful sports banquet at the DAC, Wally McCarthy suggested we should have a second sporting event each year. With the hockey award in mind I felt it was now time to discuss the concept. I asked Russ Chance, Chairman of the Entertainment Committee, to meet with me. When I expressed my interest in a collegiate hockey award, Russ agreed. We discussed the financial arrangements necessary, and I told Russ that I would pursue sponsors to make the award self-sustaining if he would chair the first event, and he agreed to do so. He also agreed to bring it to the Board of Directors for their approval.

Over the next several months I pursued potential sponsors and succeeded in getting commitments from Ralph Greig of Pepsi Bottling Company and Joe Lapinsky, President of Northwest Airlines, for some form of financial backing. I also lined up Jim Thaxton, President of Sports Films & Talent, to do the filming of the potential finalists.

I then began to establish an organizational committee of club members who were interested in sports and the concept of a collegiate hockey award. The first members of the committee were Walter Bush, Jim Thaxton, Russ Chance, Pinky McNamara, George Konik, Murray Williamson, Grady Alderman, Ralph Greig, and Ron Fletcher.

I asked John Justice, Athletic Director of the DAC, to draw up a format for the award. John went to work on a plan to establish the criteria as to who would do the voting to select the candidates, how to arrive at a top ten, and finally, the winner. At this point I felt we needed someone to actually be in charge of the award itself, and I appointed Patty Riha, editor of the DAC Discus magazine, to be the award coordinator. The three of us put our final touch on the format and then presented it to the Organizational Committee for final approval. By this time our Committee had grown in size as we felt the need for more help on the various committees within the Organizational Committee. We broke the Committee's assignments as follows, calling it the Planning Committee.

Next came the choice for a name for the award. I asked Walter Bush how I could get a list of the Hockey Hall of Fame members. Walter said he would send me a list of the names in the Canadian Hockey Hall of Fame and suggested I contact Roger Godin who was then in charge of the U. S. Hockey Hall of Fame. Roger sent me his list and I began to study the biographies of the names in the two Halls of Fame. After reviewing all of the inductees, I settled on four names that impressed me the most. They were Frankie Brimsek, Moose Goheen, John Mariucci, and of course Hobey Baker. Even though I had come up with the four final names for the Committee's review, I had already made up my mind. I was so enamored with Hobey that I secured all of the information on him that I could, even contacting W.C. Stryker, the Director of Athletic Relations at Princeton University, where Hobey attended and performed.

When I attended the next Committee meeting I brought the four names for consideration, but only brought the bio on Hobey. It was a tough decision for a few because the other three candidates were all from Minnesota. In fact, John Mariucci was my neighbor in Bloomington. My input prevailed however, and the Committee voted unanimously for Hobart Amory Baker.

I contacted Bill Stryker at Princeton and learned there were relatives of Hobey's in New York, Princeton, and believe it or not, two in St. Paul, Minnesota. There were two nephews in New York that were the sons of Hobey's brother, Thornton. One was Alfred Baker, a senior editor at Time Magazine, and the other was Hobey Baker, Creative Director at General Mills. One cousin, Lewis Baker Cuyler lived in Princeton and the two cousins living in St. Paul were Mrs. Benjamin Griggs and Mrs. Charles Ames.

I traveled to New York and Princeton to meet those relatives and secure their permission for the use of Hobey's name. Nephew Hobey had in his possession an elaborate scrapbook that Hobey's mother had compiled. He graciously allowed me to bring the scrapbook back to Minnesota with me. Jim Thaxton's Sports Film & Talent Company duplicated the entire scrapbook which allowed us to have all the pictures, stories, and headlines we now have in our possession.

While in New York I also contacted a number of media people to get their input and support for the award. I met personally with Mulvoy, hockey editor for Sports Illustrated at that time, and with Judy Weiss in the New York office of Hockey News. On the phone I talked with Tom Murray and Charlie Halpin of Hockey

News in Toronto, and Larry Klein of Sport Magazine. They were all very helpful and supportive of such an award. I also spent more time with Rudi Riska while in New York, and received more of the background on the Heisman Award.

From there I solicited suggestions, recommendations, support and approval from Dennis Poppe and William Hunt of the NCAA, Hal Trumble of the Amateur Hockey Association, Bill Cleary, Harvard hockey coach and Executive Director of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics, Lefty Smith, Notre Dame Hockey coach and President of the American Hockey Coaches Association, along with W.C. Stryker. The next step was to establish an Advisory Committee of well recognized and respected hockey icons and legends that we felt could add their expertise and prestige to the award. With the help of Walter Bush, and the member of the Organizational Committee, a committee was formed that consisted of Thayer Tutt, Bob Ridder, Don Clark, Bill Cleary and Snooks Kelly. Walter Bush would serve as the Chairman of this committee. This committee was responsible for overseeing the Award and for selecting a 13-person selection committee that would ultimately name the winner.

A network of all college coaches in the NCAA, divisions I, II and III, was established to determine the top ten candidates. They all voted for the three best players in their estimation. The votes of the coaches determined who the top 10 finalists would be. Our problem during the first couple of years was that we, in an attempt to be all-inclusive, gave equal weight to Divisions II and III, and ended up with too many players from those divisions in the top 10. Following this, the 13-man selection committee would select the ultimate winner. This selection committee would be made up of equal representation from the East and the Midwest. One person would be designated to represent the daily newspapers, the magazines, the electronic media, the American Hockey Association, the NHL scouts, and the Hockey Coaches Association, thus creating twelve members. The Decathlon Chairman of the Committee was the thirteenth member, and would only vote in the event of a tie. Members were to serve two-year terms. After two years new members were appointed by the Advisory Committee.

The first Hobey Baker Award winner, Neal Broten, was announced at the DAC before a very sparse media audience on March 20, 1981. The Award banquet was held at the Decathlon Athletic Club on March 30, 1981. Attired in black tie, the head table featured Gordie Howe as guest speaker. The Master of Ceremonies was the legendary Ray Scott and the long awaited event was a complete sell out.

He has retired from pro hockey and resides in his hometown of St. Joseph deBeauce, Quebec where he works as an English language teacher.

2005 — Marty Sertich Colorado College Tigers

After becoming the second Colorado College player in three years to win the Hobey Baker Award as a junior, Marty Sertich returned for one more year with the Tigers in 2005-06. As a senior he was again named a Hobey Baker finalist. He finished his CC career with 121 assists and 182 points to rank seventh and tied for 12th, respectively, on the school's all-time charts. The 2004-

05 first-team All-American and national scoring champion played in 166 consecutive games for the Tigers without ever missing one, collecting at least one point in 108 of them, including 30 of 42 in his final campaign. He was involved in 35 game-winning goals during his four years with the team, scoring 11 and helping to set up 24. He recorded 53 multiple-point games. Marty spent his first two seasons of pro hockey with Iowa of the AHL followed by two seasons with the Lake Erie Monsters of the AHL. Sertich then played two seasons in Switzerland, followed by three seasons playing in Germany, the last two years with the Hamburg Freezers. Sertich retired after a ten-year pro career following the 2015-16 season. He formed Tradition Hockey, a youth training program based in Roseville, MN, and was named an assistant coach of the University of St. Thomas women's hockey team in 2017 where he will help guide them in their move from Division III to Division I college hockey in 2021.

2006 — Matt Carle University of Denver Pioneers

The two-time defending national champions didn't make it a three-peat however, their outstanding captain Matt Carle gained a boatload of awards. Finishing second in WCHA conference scoring and first in assists, Carle was named the league's Player of the Year as well as the Defensive Player of the Year — a first in league history. He was also named First Team All Star for the second consecutive season. Finishing with 53 points in 39 games (11-42), Carle led the nation in assists and led the nation's defensemen in points and assists. Born and raised in Anchorage, Alaska, Matt turned pro after his junior season and has been an NHL regular since, having played for San Jose, Tampa Bay, four seasons with the Philadelphia Flyers and was reacquired by Tampa in 2012 where he has spent four seasons with the Lightning. Carle signed as a free agent with Nashville in 2016 and retired from pro hockey in October. He played in 857 career NHL games and posted 327 career points in twelve NHL seasons. Matt presently works in the commercial real estate business.

2007 — Ryan Duncan Univ. of North Dakota Fighting Sioux

It is uncommon for a collegiate player in only his sophomore season to be nominated to receive the Hobey Baker Award, and rarer still to claim the prize. North Dakota forward Ryan Duncan became only the third sophomore player in the 27 years of the Hobey to be recognized as college hockey's top player. The high scoring forward from Calgary, Alberta helped the Fighting Sioux to their third straight NCAA Frozen Four appearance. In 43 games, the diminutive Duncan (5'8 and 155 pounds) scored 31 goals, second best in the nation, and had 26 assists for 57 points planting him fourth in the nation in scoring. Those efforts helped North Dakota to an awesome second half of the season as the Sioux completed their season on a 17-4-4 run as one of college hockey's hottest teams. Along with the Hobey, Duncan was named WCHA Player of the Year, First Team WCHA and a first team West All American. A pro hockey free agent, Duncan is a business major and a WCHA All Academic student-athlete with a 3.20 GPA. Ryan returned for his final two seasons at North Dakota and upon graduation, spent two seasons with Salzburg of the Austrian Elite League. He spent the 2011-12 season with Portland in the AHL; returned to Salzburg for the 2012-13 season; then one season with Munich in the German elite league. Duncan then finished his career with five more seasons back with Salzburg in Austria before retiring following the 2018-19 campaign.

2008 — Kevin Porter University of Michigan Wolverines

Porter is a senior forward who almost single-handedly helped Michigan to their national record 23rd Frozen Four. Last spring in two games at the East Regional, Porter had a hand in six of the seven Michigan goals bagging five goals and one assist, including four goals in a 5-1 win over Niagara. He finished second in the nation in points and goals with 33 goals, 30 assists for 63 points in 43 games. Porter was tied for second in the nation with 15 power play goals; recorded 18 multiple-point games and had a plus-minus of +33. His steady, consistent two-way play didn't go unnoticed as he was named the CCHA Player of the Year and was a finalist for the league's Best Defensive Forward. The First Team CCHA honoree was named the Hockey Commissioners January National Player of the Month. From Northville, Michigan, Porter was a draft pick of Phoenix. A General Studies major, Kevin spent time with visits to Mott Children's Hospital and volunteered for various Make-A-Wish Foundation activities. Kevin spent his first two pro seasons split between Phoenix of the NHL and San Antonio of the AHL; was traded in March 2010 to the Colorado Avalanche, playing three seasons there; signed with Buffalo as a free agent in 2012, completing two seasons in the Sabres organization. After spending the 2014-15 season with Grand Rapids of the AHL, Porter signed with the Pittsburgh Penguins and has spent the past five seasons with the organization. Porter played three seasons with Rochester in the AHL and retired from pro hockey following the 2019-20 season.

2009 — Matt Gilroy

Boston University Terriers

Electing to forego a pro career following his junior season, Matt Gilroy returned to Boston University to complete his education, captain the BU Terriers for his senior season and play on the same team as his freshman brother Kevin. All things considered, Gilroy's decision proved monumental. Boston University's dominating season culminated with a national championship and Matt won the school's second Hobey Baker Award (Chris Drury in 1998). The Terriers were ranked No. 1 for a large portion of the season, winning the Hockey East regular season and playoff titles. The senior defenseman produced 37 points in 45 games on 8 goals and 29 assists to finish tied for second in the nation amongst defensemen.

A management studies major, Matt became the first defenseman in Hockey East history to earn First Team all-star honors three times. He was also named the winner of the Walter Brown Award as the best American-born college player in New England. Initially a walk-on at BU, Gilroy concluded his career playing in 145 consecutive games. Growing up in North Bellmore, NY, Matt helps his family run a summer basketball league on Long Island, volunteers with the Autism Speaks program and was a driving force behind the "Starr of the Game" benefit to honor long-time BU booster Meryl Starr Herman. Matt wore number 97 to honor his deceased brother Timmy. Gilroy originally signed as a free agent with the New York Rangers where he spent two seasons. In the summer of 2011, he signed as a free agent with the Tampa Bay Lightning and was traded mid-season to the Ottawa Senators; spent parts of the next two seasons with the Rangers and Florida Panthers. Gilroy has moved overseas to play in the KHL, first with Moscow Oblast Atlant for one season, then two seasons with Moscow Spartak, and the 2017-18 season with Jokerit Helsinki, also of the KHL. Gilroy also played for Team USA during the 2018 Winter Olympics in South Korea. Matt spent the 2018-19 season playing in the Swiss A league for Rapperswil-Jona, and then retired from pro hockey.

2010 — Blake Geoffrion

Univ. of Wisconsin-Madison Badgers

Certainly the family bloodlines don't hurt, but Blake Geoffrion established himself as one of the nation's premiere players. The tri-captain of the Badgers was a complete player and helped Wisconsin to the national championship game. Utilized in all situations, the senior forward from Brentwood, Tenn., Geoffrion skated a regular shift, received ample special teams time on both power play and penalty killing, took key faceoffs (where he was a remarkable 59% on faceoffs) and had an amazing shooting percentage of 23%. Geoffrion was named MVP of the West Regional and overall recorded 28 goals and 22 assists in 40 games, ranking third in the nation in goal scoring and led the country with 15 power play goals. Finishing second in the WCHA scoring race and topping the conference in goals and power play goals, he was selected as a First Team all-star. And the family bloodlines? His dad Danny, granddad Bernie "Boom Boom" and his great grandpa Howie Morenz all played for the Montreal Canadiens. Boom Boom and Howie are both enshrined in the Hockey Hall of Fame and have nine Stanley Cups between them. A Consumer Science Major, Geoffrion spent time off the ice visiting UW Children's Hospital, was a mentor to a cancer patient and a Peer Leader lending assistance to UW students. He was a second-round draft pick of the Nashville Predators and spent time between Nashville and Milwaukee of the AHL; played for both teams again in 2011-12 before being traded to the Montreal Canadiens having spent time in the NHL and with Hamilton in the AHL. Geoffrion suffered a head injury 10 games into the 2012-13 season with Hamilton and has retired from hockey. Geoffrion then scouted for one season for Columbus Bluejackets before being promoted to Assistant General Manager of their AHL affiliate, the Cleveland Monsters. Blake is now working for the Korn Ferry recruitment agency.

2011 — Andy Miele

University of Miami RedHawks

Andy Miele (pronounced mee-lee), outpaced everyone in college hockey piling up 71 points in just 39 games played, the most points in Division I hockey in eight years. His closest competitor was 11 points behind. Overall, Miele scored 24 goals and 47 assists becoming the first Miami RedHawk to win the Hobey. The senior from Grosse Pointe Woods, Michigan, won the CCHA conference scoring title posting 16 goals and 40 assists for 56 points in 28 league games, an average of two points per game and the most points in conference play in 19 years. Amazingly, his 40 assists were more than the second place player had total points, a first in league history. His 47 assists in all games led the nation by six assists. Miele earned CCHA Player of the Year honors and a First Team all-star berth. He had multiple point efforts in 22 of the 39 games he played in — an incredible model of consistency. An American Studies major with a Coaching minor, Miele joined the U.S. National Team for the IIHF World Championship in Slovakia in 2011. He signed a pro contract as a free agent with the Phoenix Coyotes, then in 2014 with Grand Rapids of the AHL where he finished second in AHL scoring in 2013-14 and led Grand Rapids in scoring for the second straight year in 2015-16. Following one season in Lehigh Valley of the AHL, Miele moved to Sweden for the 2017-18 season, splitting his time between Malmo and Vaxjo HC. Miele spent the 2018-19 season playing for the Nizhny Novgorod Torpedo of the KHL before returning to North America where he played for Tucson in the AHL during the 2019-20 season. Miele once again headed overseas for his second stint with Nizhny Novgorod of the KHL for the 2020-21 campaign.

2012 — Jack Connolly

Univ. of Minnesota Duluth Bulldogs

As captain of the defending national champions, Jack Connolly had a fantastic season winning the WCHA scoring title, being named a First Team all-star for the third straight season and capped it off as the league's Player of the Year. A three-time All American, Connolly was second in the nation in points and assists accumulating 20 goals and 40 assists for 60 points in 41 games.

Connolly never missed a college game, having played in 166 straight. Amazingly, he was held pointless in consecutive games only twice in his illustrious four-year career and punctuated it with a team record 22-game point streak in his Hobey Baker season. Tremendous skill as a playmaking center defined Jack's game as he had an innate ability to see the ice and make smooth, intelligent puck decisions. The hometown hero is active in community endeavors helping with trash clean-up in the Adopt-A-Highway program, visiting Duluth hospitals, volunteering with the Boys and Girls Clubs of America and working with various cancer fund-raisers. He was a Communications major with a 3.3 GPA. Hockey runs deep in the Connolly family as Jack's older brother Chris, was the captain and second leading scorer for Boston University the same season. Jack completed his ninth pro season in Sweden, and after playing four seasons with Rogle BK, he has spent the past three seasons with Lulea HF.

Cole Caufield becomes the second Wisconsin Badger to be chosen for college hockey's top individual prize. Blake Geoffrion (pictured) was the first when he won the award in 2010.

2013 — Drew LeBlanc
St. Cloud State University Huskies

The Hobey Baker winning year for Drew LeBlanc was truly an amazing one. Following a horrific broken leg injury the prior season prompting a medical redshirt, LeBlanc returned for a fifth season to captain the Huskies. The masterful playmaking center from Hermantown, Minnesota had an outstanding season leading the nation with 37 assists in 42 games while contributing 13 goals for 50 total points (seventh in the nation). His creative playmaking skills while on offense were matched by his diligent efforts in his own defensive zone, helping St. Cloud State to a share of their first WCHA regular season title and their first ever appearance in the NCAA Frozen Four championship. LeBlanc's magical season helped him attain a first in the 52-year history of the WCHA — named both the Outstanding Student-Athlete of the Year and the WCHA Player of the Year. He took on an added academic load to complete his Math Education degree by student teaching all season long. He has been active in community outreach programs assisting new students on campus with move-ins, helping out at local hockey clinics and participating in a variety of team functions throughout his career at St. Cloud State. A pro hockey free agent, LeBlanc signed with the Chicago Blackhawks and spent two seasons with Rockford of the AHL. Drew then headed to Germany and just completed his sixth season with the Augsburg Panthers.

2014 — Johnny Gaudreau
Boston College Eagles

Many referred to Johnny Gaudreau (pronounced GOO-dreau), as Johnny Hockey and for a very good reason. He tore through the college hockey season averaging two points per game, putting up 80 points in 40 games to record the highest point total in Division I college hockey in 11 years. Gaudreau lit up everyone, recording points in all but two games, including a 31-game point streak to tie a Hockey East record (Paul Kariya, Maine, 1993). Two was his lucky number: two-time Hockey East scoring champion, two-time Hockey East Player of the Year, two-time all-conference, two-time First Team All American and two-time Hobey Baker hat-trick finalist. Gaudreau completed his Hobey season leading the nation in goals (36), assists (44), points (80) and was second in plus-minus (+42). He saved his best for last — in 3 NCAA playoff games, Johnny had 4 goals and 7 assists. A communications major, Gaudreau signed a professional contract with the team who drafted him, the Calgary Flames and became just the fifth player in NHL history to score a goal on his first shot in his first NHL game. Off the ice, Johnny spent time visiting elementary schools and mentoring a special needs team. In his first NHL season (2014-15), Gaudreau scored 24 goals and 40 assists in 80 games and was a finalist for the Calder Trophy as NHL Rookie of the Year. Johnny just completed his seventh NHL season and has become one of the NHL's elite scorers. He finished tied for seventh in NHL scoring during the 2018-19 season with 99 points in 82 games, and continues to flourish at the games' top level.

2015 — Jack Eichel
Boston University Terriers

For the first time in 22 years, a college freshman, Jack Eichel (IKE-ul) won the coveted Hobey Baker Award. The 18-year old rookie sensation had a fantastic season leading the nation in points (71), assists (45), power play points (23) and plus-minus (+51) in 40 games. He helped his Terrier squad to a berth in the national championship game and finished the season with a flurry bagging 8 goals and 8 assists in 8 playoff games. Eichel started the season as a 17-year old, collected two goals and two assists in his first college hockey game and continued by recording points in 10 consecutive games (7 goals, 12 assists) to open his college career. A fluid, effortless skater, Eichel made everyone around him successful with his uncanny hockey sense, regularly setting up teammates. In addition to the Hobey, Jack was honored with a plethora of awards: Hockey East Player of the Year and Rookie of the Year, conference scoring champion, First Team Hockey East and a member of the All-Rookie Team, Most Valuable Player at the Hockey East playoff tournament, National Rookie of the Year by the Hockey Commissioners Association and a First Team All American by the Hockey Coaches Association. Jack is enrolled in the College of General Studies. He spends off-ice time mentoring an 11-year old brain cancer patient and helps out with the Terriers team partnership with Autism Speaks. Eichel was drafted second overall in 2015 by Buffalo and finished second in scoring on the Sabres with 24 goals and 56 points in 81 games in his rookie season. He just completed his sixth season with the Buffalo Sabres, is their team captain, and has recorded 355 points in 375 career games, elevating his status as one of the NHL's premiere players.

2016 — Jimmy Vesey
Harvard University

Returning to campus for his senior season paid off for 2016 Hobey Baker Award winner Jimmy Vesey (VEE-zee). For two straight years, the senior captain of the Crimson was a Hobey Baker Hat Trick finalist, was named ECAC Player of the Year, Ivy League Player of the Year, ECAC First Team all-conference and winner of the Walter Brown Award as the best American-born player in New England. Vesey finished the season recording 24 goals and 22 assists for 46 points in 33 games. Over the past two years, he has scored more goals than any other player in college hockey — 56, after bagging a nation's best 32 last season. It was a happy day on campus when Vesey spurned offers to turn professional in order to complete his senior year as a student-athlete. A dynamic offensive talent, Vesey was an impact player in all phases of the game and was widely recognized as the hardest worker on the team. A native of North Reading, Massachusetts, Jimmy was a Government major and has been ECAC All Academic every year. Off the ice, Vesey helped raise money for the Travis Roy Foundation and the Franciscan Hospital for Children. He was a third-round draft pick of Nashville of the NHL, but elected to test the free agent market, signing with the New York Rangers where he played for three seasons. An off-season trade sent him to Buffalo for the 2019-20 campaign. He spent the most recent season of 2020-21 starting with Toronto before being traded to Vancouver where he played 20 games.

2017 — Will Butcher University of Denver

Will Butcher became just the sixth defenseman in the 37 year history of the Hobey Baker Award to be so honored. The Pioneers captain described the accomplishment as “a team award,” as he helped Denver to a national championship. Equally efficient at both ends of the ice, Butcher ranked second in the nation in points by a defenseman tallying seven goals and dishing out 30 assists for 37 points in 43 games. His plus/minus of +27 ranked tied for sixth overall in the nation. Multiple conference awards highlighted his fantastic season including the NCHC Player of the Year, Offensive Defenseman of the Year, and for the second straight year, First Team all-conference. An all-academic performer in the classroom, Will completed his Bachelor’s degree in Business. He was a finalist for the nationally recognized senior CLASS award. Butcher is an avid muskie fisherman, and spends volunteer time with Hockey Saves, assisting military personal in learning and playing the game of hockey. A two-time All American, Will was a fifth round draft pick of the Colorado Avalanche (2013) but chose the free agent route in the summer of 2017 and signed a pro contract with the New Jersey Devils, tallying 44 points in 81 games in his rookie season. Will just completed his fourth season with the Devils as a solid play-making defenseman.

2018 — Adam Gaudette Northeastern University

Best known as a tireless competitor, Adam Gaudette parlayed his almost 30 minutes of ice-time per game in becoming the nation’s leading scorer. Adam was joined on the top line of Northeastern University by another Hobey top ten finalist Dylan Sikura (third in the nation in scoring), as the Huskies duo terrorized goalies across the land. Gaudette powered home 30 goals, dished out 30 assists and totaled 60 points in just 38 games, averaging a national best 1.58 points per game. His passion to compete at both ends of the ice with deceptive speed, earned him multiple honors including First Team All American, Hockey East Conference Player of the Year, league scoring champion and First Team all-conference. Lethal on the power play, Gaudette sniped 11 power play goals and led the nation by recording 27 power play points. The junior forward from Braintree, Massachusetts becomes the first player from Northeastern University to win the Hobey Baker Award. A Communications major, Adam signed a pro contract with the team that drafted him, the Vancouver Canucks, foregoing his senior season. Active in several community projects, Adam assisted in children’s cancer efforts, helped Northeastern students on move-in weekend and read to elementary school students. Adam spent the better part of three seasons with the Canucks, but was traded late in the 2020-21 season to the Chicago Blackhawks.

2019 — Cale Makar University of Massachusetts

Known as a dynamic player equally effective at both ends of the ice, Cale Makar was named Hockey East Player of the Year and First Team all-conference, becoming the circuit’s first defenseman in 20 years to lead Hockey East in scoring. On the season, Makar had 16 goals and 33 assists for 49 points in 41 games, finishing third in the nation in points; tops amongst all defensemen and just one point back of the national lead. Makar also finished third in the nation in assists and contributed 15 points on the power play. His attention to details in all three zones led to a plus/minus of +32, which was second amongst all college hockey players.

Makar, a sophomore assistant captain from Calgary, Alberta helped guide the University of Massachusetts to several program firsts: a Hockey East regular season championship, their first ever number one national ranking and their first trip to the NCAA Frozen Four, culminating in an appearance in the national championship game. Upon conclusion of his college hockey season, Makar signed a pro contract with the Colorado Avalanche and became the first defenseman in NHL history to score a goal while making his NHL debut during the Stanley Cup playoffs. He just completed his second full season with the Avalanche.

2020 — Scott Perunovich University of Minnesota Duluth

It has been an incredible run the past three seasons for Scott Perunovich (purr-roo-na-vitch). Coming off back-to-back national titles, the Bulldogs were well positioned for a three-peat led by the NCHC Player of the Year. He finished the season with six goals and 34 assists for 40 points in 34 games. Enroute, he became the first defenseman to win the regular season conference scoring title and ended up tenth overall in the nation in scoring. A tremendous playmaker, Perunovich was second in the nation in assists. Highly dangerous with the man advantage, he was tied for first in the nation in both power play points and power play assists. In addition to being named NCHC Player of the Year, Perunovich was named First Team all-conference and Offensive Defenseman of the Year – both for the third straight season. A Communications major and three-time All American, he was named national Player of the Year by College Hockey News. A draft choice of St. Louis (2nd round), he signed a pro contract with the Blues, but did not play in 2020-21 due to a pre-season injury.

The Awards Banquet was held outdoors under a tent in 2020 for safety reasons during the Covid pandemic. The banquet date was originally scheduled for June 17, but was moved to August 6 to meet the CDC guidelines at the time. Adding the afternoon golf tournament prior to the evening banquet made for an extra special day for honoring last year’s winner.
